

Model of Restorative Care

LEGEND:

Currently Achieving

Currently Developing

- Skilled workforce trained in delivering of restorative care
- Complex clients with physical disability and/or mental health issues of any age
- Person-centered and goal oriented care focusing on optimising individual abilities
- Multi-disciplinary team which utilises an interdisciplinary and holistic approach
- Environment that enables participation and encourages interest in activity
- Meaningful and therapeutic activity programme
- Client is provided opportunities to transition back to community living
- Multi-Disciplinary meetings are held fortnightly, to which the whole team contributes, including resident/whanau
- Volunteers benefits residents and provides opportunities for work experience, "giving back"

- Interdisciplinary input to return the person home in an optimal state
- Tailored intervention according to Person-centered goals
- Meaningful and therapeutic activities available
- Continuity of care

- Restorative approach is modeled and embraced by all staff (HCA's, kitchen staff, laundry staff, etc)
- Health Care Assistants are empowering independence and participation in ADLs such as showering, making beds, processing laundry
- Functional goals are incorporated into Nursing Care plans
- Activity programmes are revised regularly to ensure variety, greater participation, choice and balance
- Equipment and environment modified to enable independence and participation
- MenzShed is being set up to provide an opportunity for meaningful interactive activity as well as community connections

- Transferred from orthopedic, medical, and SMHS services
- Person Centered goals maximize the benefit of the resident's stay
- Pre-Discharge home visit to ensure safety and independence
- Participation in the activity programme is encouraged

- Using a restorative, empowerment approach
- Clients have access to the Rannerdale Multi-Disciplinary team for support, assessment and intervention

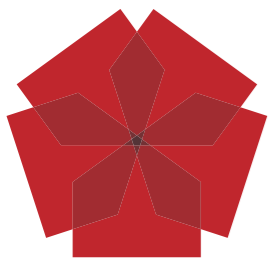

- Delivered by skilled staff using an interdisciplinary approach with volunteer and community support
- Wide range of therapeutic and meaningful activities available
- Choice, variety and balance of activity
- Informed by evidence: Eden Alternative, Restorative and Preventative approach, Cognitive Stimulation Therapy, etc

- A service we want to develop further

- Currently Carer Support only, progress to full Day Programme

- Liaising with the Home Care Support Nurse

Rannerdale Veterans' Care – Model of Restorative Care

LEGEND:

Currently Achieving

Currently Developing

- Skilled workforce trained in delivering of restorative care
- Complex clients with physical disability and/or mental health issues of any age
- Person-centered and goal oriented care focusing on optimising individual abilities
- Multi-disciplinary team which utilises an interdisciplinary and holistic approach
- Environment that enables participation and encourages interest in activity
- Meaningful and therapeutic activity programme
- Client is provided opportunities to transition back to community living
- Multi-Disciplinary meetings are held fortnightly, to which the whole team contributes, including resident/whanau
- Volunteers benefits residents and provides opportunities for work experience, “giving back”

- Interdisciplinary input to return the person home in an optimal state
- Tailored intervention according to Person-centered goals
- Meaningful and therapeutic activities available
- Continuity of care

- Restorative approach is modeled and embraced by all staff (HCA's, kitchen staff, laundry staff, etc)
- Health Care Assistants are empowering independence and participation in ADLs such as showering, making beds, processing laundry
- Functional goals are incorporated into Nursing Care plans
- Activity programmes are revised regularly to ensure variety, greater participation, choice and balance
- Equipment and environment modified to enable independence and participation
- MenzShed is being set up to provide an opportunity for meaningful interactive activity as well as community connections

- Using a restorative, empowerment approach
- Clients have access to the Rannerdale Multi-Disciplinary team for support, assessment and intervention

- Liaising with the Home Care Support Nurse

- Transferred from orthopedic, medical, and SMHS services
- Person Centered goals maximize the benefit of the resident's stay
- Pre-Discharge home visit to ensure safety and independence
- Participation in the activity programme is encouraged

- Delivered by skilled staff using an interdisciplinary approach with volunteer and community support
- Wide range of therapeutic and meaningful activities available
- Choice, variety and balance of activity
- Informed by evidence: Eden Alternative, Restorative and Preventative approach, Cognitive Stimulation Therapy, etc

- A service we want to develop further

- Currently Carer Support only, progress to full Day Programme